Long journey

Mr and Mrs Macphail were an old married couple. One day Mr Macphail asked his wife: "Hey, honey, don't you think we've been sitting at home for too long? To my mind, it's time to get new impressions! Would you mind going on a trip somewhere?"

"Wow, that's definitely a great thought! I'm looking forward to seeing something new." But where can we go?" answered his excited wife.

"Let's just jump in a car and go to one of the nearest towns, then we'll see." suggested Mr Macphail.

"You're crazy today, and I love it!" yelled happy woman.

They got into their car. Now it was time to choose the direction. Mrs Macphail offered "Let's choose it randomly! Spin this bottle and may it show us our way!"

The bottle decided: to the north. Mr and Mrs Macphail were driving for about two hours when they saw the lights of a town. They stopped near a store so as to buy some snack. Of course, the couple needed a place to stay for the night. They decided to talk to one of other customers while they were standing in the line.

"Good evening, what's your name? We need some help." Mr Macphail began the conversation.

"Hello, I'm Davidson. What can I do for you?" asked the stranger.

"We went for a spontaneous journey without any plan. Now we need a place to sleep. Is there a hotel here?" asked Mrs Macphail.

Davidson gave a low chuckle.

"There's not."

"What shall we do then?" Mr Macphail was worried.

"I have an idea, my darling. Let's just get back home." said Mrs Macphail.

"What a superb idea! I was thinking about the same!"

And they returned home.

"I've had enough adventures for today." said Mr Macphail. "Let's drink some tea." "Oh yeah, journeys are good, but
