WRITING

Graffiti can make our cities ugly, if it is unprofessional. Some people claim that graffiti is vandalism, while others argue that graffiti is a special art form that should be admired.

In my opinion, professionally made graffiti is very beautiful. Graffiti is very popular around the world. If it is done by really talented people, a picture can be a work of art. It is the most accessible type of culture that overcomes barriers of race, generation and gender.

However, some people don't recognize graffiti as art. They say that most pictures are meaningless and have little or no aesthetic appeal. In addition, graffiti often appears on private or public property without permission, and then public funds are used to remove it.

Nonetheless, I cannot agree with such a position. I believe that graffiti artists express their feelings and ideas about everything in the world and want to attract public attention to their outlook through their works.

We are optimistic about the future of our cities because young people are creative and could use their energy to the cause of making our cities and towns perfect for living.
